

Justa Piche-Belleau

Mrs. Heather Suggitt, Business, Management, Marketing & Technology Accounting teacher, has selected Justa Piche-Belleau as Outstanding Accounting Student of the 1st quarter for the 2011-2012 school year.

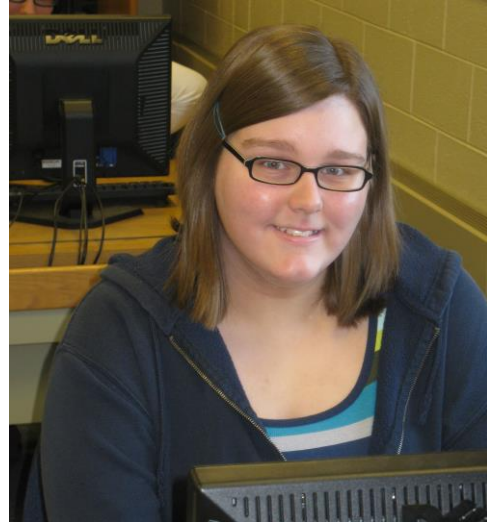

Justa is a senior in her 2nd year of Accounting. Last year while she was enrolled in a one-hour accounting class she completed the Accounting I curriculum. With the fundamentals of accounting that she learned last year, Justa has started this school year out on the right track. She works as an independent student completing job titles for her Career Center Certificate in Accounting/Finance area. Justa has already completed all of the foundations skills for the program and earned the following job titles: Bookkeeper, Audit Clerk, Business Management Clerk and Entrepreneur.

Justa uses her time in class efficiently and completes her projects with a positive attitude. She always has a smile on her face and graciously helps other students in needed.

Congratulations Justa on being the
Outstanding Student of the Quarter
in Accounting Technology!

Taylor Crane

Mrs. Diane Harrington,
Business, Management,
Marketing & Technology
Administrative Services teacher, has selected Taylor Crane as Outstanding Administrative student of the 1st quarter for the 2011-2012 school year

Taylor is a two-hour student in Administrative Services and has accomplished so much in just nine weeks. She has completed all software at the core level and has already completed her certification prep for Microsoft Power Point. Each and every day she has an excellent attitude and works diligently on her assignments. In addition, she has great attendance and an amazing smile! She certainly is an asset to my class and would be to any employer!

Congratulations Taylor on being the
Outstanding Student of the Quarter
in Administrative Services!

Michael Stefanski

Mr. Gary Herschell has nominated senior, Michael Stefanski from Pickford High School, as the outstanding student of the 1st quarter in Machine Tool Technology for the 2011-2012 school year.

This is Mike Stefanski's first year in the Machine Tool program and he is excelling quite rapidly in the trade of machining. He puts a lot of time and effort into the class on a daily basis and always shows one hundred percent on all of his assignments and projects. Mike is receiving this honor due to his excellent work ethic; he is the first student working and the last to clean up after the day's work. He is respectful to his peers, staff and the equipment used in the classroom. I feel with the skill learned in this class Mike will go on to do great things.

Congratulations Michael on being the Outstanding Student of the Quarter in Machine Tool Training!

Greg Matthies

Mr. Zain, Drafting & Design is proud to present Greg Matthies as the Outstanding Drafting & Design student for the 1st quarter for the 2011-2012 school year.

This year Greg has developed into a self-directed, hardworking young man. He has worked diligently in the field of Architectural drafting and has a home design that he has developed on his own. He has led the class in using both electronic and traditional methods of obtaining technical information used in his design. His growth and maturity have come a long way from last year and at this pace he will easily achieve this goal of moving on to college and pursue a degree in Architecture.

Congratulations Greg on being the Outstanding Student of the Quarter in Drafting and Design Technology!

Steven Angeli

Mr. Abe Zain, Work-Based Learning Coordinator, has selected Steven Angeli as outstanding Work-Based Learning student of the 1st quarter for the 2011-2012 school year.

Steve is working at the Eastern Upper Peninsula Intermediate School District in the capacity of Office Assistant. All of his supervisors rave about his skills, work habits and great personality. He is always on time, dressed professionally and doing an outstanding job. For these reasons Steve is the Outstanding Work-based Learning student of the first quarter. It is great to have students in the community that make our school shine.

Congratulations Steven on being the
Outstanding Student of the Quarter
in Work-based Learning!

Robyn Waybrant

Allied Health instructor Ms. Elena Lehocky has selected Robyn Waybrant as outstanding student for the 1st quarter of the 2011-2012 school year.

Robyn is an outstanding student on many levels. She is knowledgeable, reliable and great with the patients, staff and students she works with.

Last year, Robyn excelled as a first year student and as a member of Health Occupations Students of America (HOSA). She went above and beyond in the classroom by competing in Medical Spelling at the regional, state and national level.

This year, Robyn continues to maintain her high standards in the classroom and on site. She is our HOSA president and student member of the Allied Health Advisory Committee. For the 2011-2012 school year, Robyn will also be a HOSA competitor, once again, in Medical Spelling.

Robyn is articulate, diplomatic and an excellent communicator. She has chaired HOSA meetings of small and large groups very effectively. Robyn treats all members and staff with dignity and respect. Under her leadership, the meetings are highly productive.

As a student, Robyn has excellent attendance and hands her assignments in on time. Her work is consistently of the highest quality. When she is in the classroom, she is quick to assist students who need help.

As a second year student, Robyn is working on site in the Nursing Department in the Medical/Surgical department. Robyn plans on studying Nursing after she graduates. At the hospital, the staff appreciates her hardworking and compassionate care of the patients. Recently, a staff member wrote the following about Robyn: "Robyn is incredible with patients and staff. We appreciate all the extra help with a positive attitude. A nice addition to our floor."

It has been a pleasure working with Robyn and I look forward to watching her continue working towards her very promising future!

Congratulations Robyn on being the Outstanding Student of the Quarter in Allied Health Technology!

Cassandra Metrish

Mrs. Lussier, Marketing teacher, has selected Cassandra Metrish as the Outstanding Marketing Student of the 1st quarter for the 2011-2012 school year.

Cassie is a second year marketing student, who has proven to be very dedicated and driven. She is motivated to get things done. Cassie works very well independently and has a great eye for detail. She can be given any task and I have every confidence that she will complete the project with thoroughness and timeliness.

She has been called on to take a leadership role as a second year student. She was instrumental in preparing for our Annual Career Center Advisory Breakfast, as well as preparing our first display case for the year. She was THE key person in the coordination of our Homecoming and Powderpuff t-shirt distribution. Her persistence and quiet confidence ensured that the anticipated items were received and distributed at the right place and the right time! Thank you Cassie for representing the Marketing Program with high levels of integrity and leadership!

She is a great asset to our program and to our Career Center.

Congratulations Cassie on being the
Outstanding Student of the Quarter
In Marketing Technology!

Christoffer Jacobsen

Mr. Randy Gebolys from Construction Technology has nominated Christoffer Jacobsen a senior in construction-trades class as the outstanding student for the 1st quarter of the 2011-2012 school year.

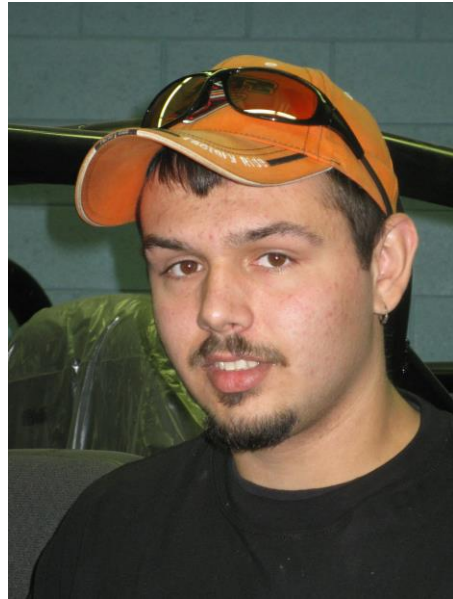

Mr. Gebolys says, "Chris Jacobsen comes to school/work every day. He loves what he is working on and overcomes obstacles that get in his way. Chris is helpful and willing to do his share of class work. All of his classmates as well as myself voted unanimously to bestow this honor to Chris as he is most deserving."

Congratulations Christoffer on being the
Outstanding Student of the Quarter
In Construction Technology!

Keith Belonga

Mr. Tim Strader, has nominated senior Keith Belonga as the outstanding student of the 1st quarter of the 2011-2012 school year in Automotive Technology.

As a second year student attending the Career Center for a two-hour block from Rudyard High School, Keith continues to excel. He is hard working and consistent. He puts everything he has into his work and goes out of his way to help others. He is always willing to take on extra tasks and learn new things. He has been accepted to Universal Technical Institute, the country's premier and accredited educational institute for mechanics training. He will continue his automotive studies there once he graduates from Rudyard High School. He has a bright future ahead of him and I look forward to seeing him grow as a professional.

Congratulations Keith on being the
Outstanding Student of the Quarter
In Automotive Technology!

Richard Little

Mr. Greg Rambo has nominated Richard Little as the outstanding student of the 1st quarter for the 2011-2012 school year in the Welding Technology program.

Richard Little is a second year student in the Welding Program and continues to show his skill and enthusiasm for this class by completing 33 welding tasks for the quarter, thirteen more than required! MIG welding is where this skill lies. Richard has good attendance and is always pleasant and helpful to his peers and staff. We look forward to watching him as he continues to grow and excel in this field.

Congratulations Richard on being the
Outstanding Student of the Quarter
In the Welding Program.

Ryan Sawyers

Mrs. Cindy Zain, Information Technology teacher, has nominated senior Ryan Sawyers as the outstanding Information Technology student of the 1st quarter for the 2011-2012 school year.

Ryan is enrolled in his first year in Information Technology and is doing an absolutely remarkable job. He is already ahead of schedule with HTML and has already created two different games using "The Games Factory" game making software. He starts new projects or tasks without having to be told and always makes sure everything works correctly before starting something new.

He is a good student who is able to get his work done and still have time left to socialize with other students or do homework for other classes. Ryan was a big help in designing and creating our classroom door for homecoming. Ryan is a great student, a nice guy, and it is a genuine pleasure to have him in class. I wish all students were as hard-working, diligent, and easy to get along with as Ryan.

Congratulations Ryan on being selected
Outstanding Student of the Quarter
In Information Technology!
